MANY BIRDS SAVED BY APPEALS MADE

To the Farmers during the Cold Weather by Organized Game Bodies.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Reports of starving quail heard during the recent cold wave and heavy snows are receiving confirmation now that it is possible to estimate the damage afield. However, the appeals sent from various sources asking farmers and others to feed the birds undoubtedly saved many. "Gun clubs" and local protective associations supplied food for great numbers, thus enabling them to survive the severe weather.

The American Game Protective Association, of 111 Broadway, New York, calls attention to this in urging the establishment of county protective associations throughout the United States. Under normal conditions the game could hold its own against the forces of nature, and the covers depleted by severe storms would soon be replenished from the surviving breeding stock. But under the conditions, existing throughout the country, which have been brought about by indiscriminate shooting, the birds do well to survive the attacks of man, and an unusual spell of cold weather accompanied by heavy snows often exterminates them in certain localities.

In such crisis energetic action by local sportsmen can save them, but to be truly efficacious it is organized action that is needed rather than the sporadic efforts of scattered individuals.

In numerous other ways county protective bodies help save the game and increase the supply. Their influence on public opinion is an invaluable aid to the cause. Where they exist, not only are there fewer violations of the game laws, but the warden can prosecute effectively those which occur when he has the people behind him, and not indifferent or antagonistic to him.

The national association's interest in the formation of local organizations does not stop with advocacy of the plan. The association will lend material aid to those interested in starting either state or county clubs for the protection of game. It has already accomplished much in this line.

The first patron of the American Game Protective and Propagation Association has just been secured, T.
Coleman DuPont, of Wilmington, Del., having donated $1,000.

The association has just received a copy of a resolution passed at a recent meeting of the Boone and Crockett Club, the most influential organization of sportsmen in the country, of which Colonel Roosevelt, George Bird Grinnell, Madison Grant, and many others prominent in the conservation movement, are members.
The resolution is a cordial expression of endorsement and support for the plans of the association.

SOUTHERN STATES EXHIBITS WANTED

Commissioner-at-Large. Fox

LANDS

Are Classified by the Geological Survey of the United States.

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Feb. 1.—D. C.
Collier, president of the Panama-California Exposition, has displayed acute discernment in a variety of directions, but in no way more convincingly than in the selection of the assistants he has enlisted to perform the preliminary work in connection with San Diego's vast enterprise.

The most recent addition to this select band of workers is a personality of international reputation, John A. Fox, who, until the beginning of the year, occupied the important position of director of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress. Mr.
Fox has been made commissioner-at-large for the Panama-California Exposition. His new duties were assumed January 1.

To the commissioner-at-large will be entrusted the difficult and delicate task of securing the appropriations and exhibits from all of the southwest states, and upon him will devolve the duty to act in each of the separate territories. Mr. Fox will be in fact an ambassador to represent this city in the outside world, and while the people in the adjacent areas have already shown their enthusiastic interest in the exposition, there is no doubt that the proposition of practical assistance they are willing to offer will be greatly stimulated by a man such as the commissioner. He will select a first-class lieutenant for each state so the whole of the southwest of the country will be in the hands of a group of able men continually submitting the claims of this city and its great fair.

Mr. Fox has three years in which to accomplish his work, and he will appear before the various state legislatures and government committees, and arrange for the assembling of exhibits. The experience Mr. Fox has enjoyed in the service of the federal government, and his prestige as a man of affairs, will enable him to appeal to public bodies in a far more impressive way than that of the usual representative of a world's fair.

Of these areas, coal classifications covered 15,621,429 acres; classification of metalliciferous land 283,468 acres; and designation of lands entirely under the 320-acre and Enlarged Homestead Act, 190,438,915 acres.

There have been withdrawn during this period 67,724,918 acres of coal-bearing land, 3,394,914 acres of oil land, 2,396,391 acres of phosphate land, and 1,722,975 acres of land believed to be valuable for the development of water power.

So far as the coal lands are concerned the Survey policy is to classify and value the lands withdrawn as rapidly as possible, so as to enable their restoration to entry and sale under the law, and although the oil and phosphate lands and water power sites are held withdrawn awaiting congressional legislation, the policy is to cut down the withdrawals to the exact acreage of land found to be underlain by oil, natural gas, or phosphate and for the water-power withdrawals to the smallest acreage which will protect the public interests.

The Enlarged Homestead designations are made on the basis of data in hand or on field examinations by the Survey showing that the lands are not suitable for irrigation or may be suitable for "dry farming" as contemplated in the Enlarged Homestead law.

Why Salves Can't Cure Eczema

Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different salves have been tried for skin diseases.
But it has been found that these salves only clog the pores and cannot penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis where the eczema germs are lodged.
This the quality of penetrating—probably explains the tremendous success of the well known Herold eczema remedy, oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., as compounded in D.D.D.
